Aggressive Command and Managing the RIT

Special Guests: DC Mo Davis and DC Clyde Gordon of Houston Fire Dept. Mo Davis and Clyde Gordon will be presenting a passionate no holds bar presentation that is directed toward incident commanders not willing to put our most important customers first: the citizens we serve. Incident command systems are often overdone or underdone. Cumbersome command practices that allow the building to burn down while command is “setup” are just as frustrating and problematic as the lack of strong direction and organization. Departments must avoid impractical commands that slow or hamper putting the fire out but must also avoid a lack of strong command that fails to organize the incident and aggressively deploy crews to solve the problem. We will cover best practices incident commanders can use to maximize the capabilities of their firefighting forces. This course is designed for both chief officers and company officers. A strong understanding of each other’s jobs and a mutual respect are imperative for any incident’s success. This program will serve as a forum for chiefs and officers to learn about each other’s roles, the jobs of each within the command system and practices that will – individually and as a team.
